Unlocking the memories

WITH THE KEY TO OUR FUTURE!!

BY: CRYSTAL JOHNSON
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

The 1996-97 Ivian theme of "Unlocking the memories with the key to our future" gives a great explanation of what this school year is really all about.

In this case, our mind is the best key to our future. While enriching our minds with wishful knowledge and getting a good education in the process, we are also making memorable moments which will last a lifetime.

For many people, their great memory of this school year was our football team's homecoming victory over Northwest. This was our first regular season win since 1993.

In conclusion, whether the memories made this year be bad or be good, they will most likely be memories to which one day we will all be able to look back and have a great laugh remembering.

Cheerleader Mellisa Nichols along with fellow cheerleaders are doing a great job cheering at this year's Homecoming in the rain.

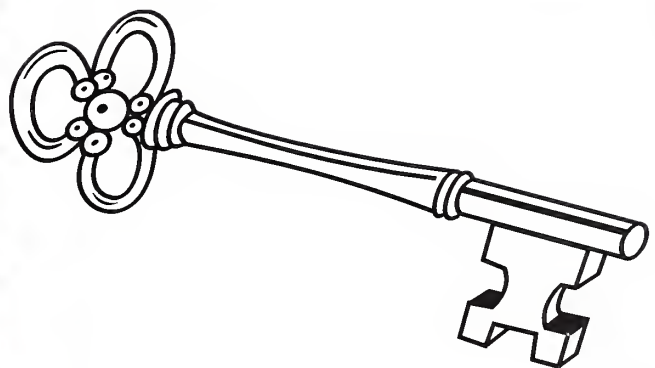

Our extraordinary football team breaks through the wall made to knock them down!

Julie Hubbard, Erin Ash, Donna Hornaday, and Miranda Wilson looked rough and tough in their new manly uniforms at the Homecoming pep session.

Angie Rodriquez, Robert Bridgewater, Brandy Pemberton, and Damon Ward are making some unforgettable memories by being crowned as Prom King and Queen.

BUILDING MEMORIES

BY KIMMIE DODSON

Education is very important for young students, however, it is not the only thing a student worries about. Students have other things on their minds whether it is a boyfriend or girlfriend, family, jobs or just an after school activity. Most students like going out and doing things with their families and friends.

Many students do not have very much time to go out and have fun because they are either involved in an after school activity or they have a part-time job.

Also, students played sports which took up most of their time during that particular season. Others played sports because it helped them stay focused. "I play sports because they help me keep my grades up," Todd Ballard said.

Many students looked forward to the weekend because they could stay out all night and catch up on things.

Many students dated on the weekends because that is the only time they have to really go out.

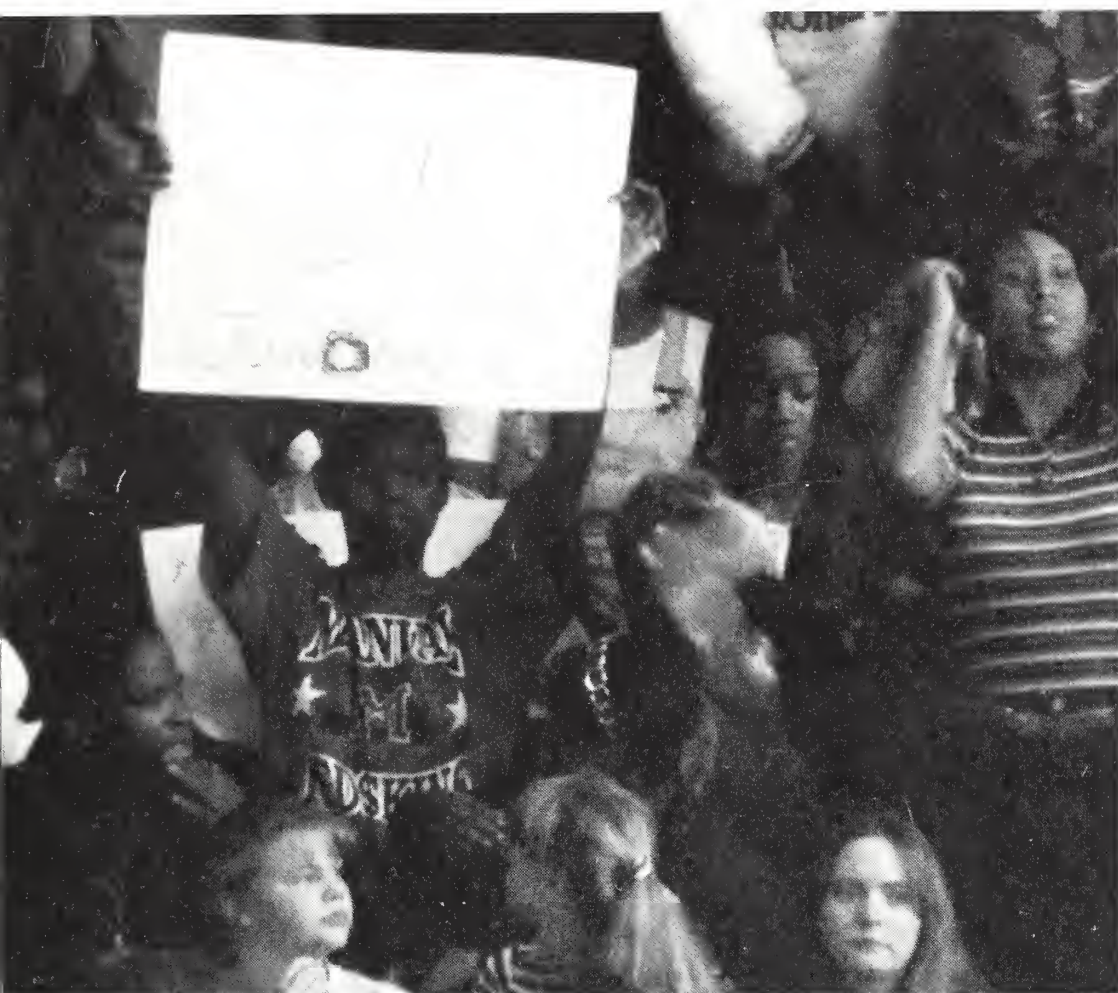

Dating helps people develop good social skills. "All of this is important, but many students think that work and school are the most important jobs that will and can get you further in life," said Keisha Moss.

Initiation into Roines included taking a bucket to class every day to wearing dresses to school.

Damon Ward posed with his parents on senior night.

Princess Brandy Pemperton and Prince Damon Ward seem ve happy after being crowned during the ro ceremony!

I wonder what's so fur Cristina Marroquin and Jackie Pike sure are having a good laugh.

Brandy Banks and Crystal Johnson put on a smile for the camera as they enjoy their evening at this year's prom.

Corey Riegal and Bill Price look like they're having a blast, dancing the night away.

OUR NIGHT TO REMEMBER

BY BRANDY BANKS

The night has finally arrived . . . "Prom Night." To some it is the biggest and most memorable night of a student's life.

Students have always, at one point in time, dreamed or fantasized about the magical evening. For instance they may day dream about renting or limo, buying a fancy dress or nice tuxedos.

Both the ladies and the gentlemen make sure they look extravagant and of course having fun with after prom activities.

"I was head clown at the prom, next year will be even better," said Antonio Bacon.

Each year our prom is held at the Murat Temple in the Arabian Room. Queen Angie Rodriguez and King Robert Bridgewater, along with Princess

Brandy Pemberton and Prince Damon Ward danced to our theme song "Remember Me This Way."

Surely all students who attended prom felt nervous at first, but that's when the fun takes over. Such as the crazy dances we did including the electric slide, YMCA, the funky chicken, etc. "I had a great time dancing the night away," said Crystal Johnson.

Don't they look perfect? This year's prom Queen Angie Rodriguez and King Robert Bridgewater are enjoying their royal dance after winning the crown.

Demettree Wynn, Connie Harold, and Mavis Gilbert are showing their stuff out there on the dance floor.

Despite downpours of rain, the Redskins treaded through the field and brought Manual it's second varsity football win of the season.

On Sept. 27, the red and white banners and balloons showed definite Redskin support, for the Northwest Space Pioneers would soon arrive.

The game began in favor of Northwest, the scoreboard showed a disappointing 12-0. Juan Mitchell cut the deficit in half with an 87 yard touchdown.

"It felt good to see the team come together and play hard," said Corey Parchman, star quarterback.

The Corey Parchman, Damon Ward combination made the score 12-12 with a touchdown pass from the 10 yard line. Their two-point conversion would make the final score of 14-12; a great comeback and a reign of school spirit throughout the stand.

"I was happy to see all the fans, although it was rainy and muddy," stated Chris Caldwell, linebacker. "I'm also happy to know that there are many people that still stood by us during the rough times."

Homecoming was a game that proved the Redskins can be competitive.

During half-time, Darrell Brown and Love Jones were crowned Homecoming King and Queen.

The Redskins charged the Northwest Space Pioneers.

Senior Juan Mitchell headed for the end zone in an effort to restore the lead.

Darrell Brown punted the ball during a breaking point in the game.

Halloween:

As seen in the eyes of Manual

Written By: Ericka Ryan

ManualHighSchool went all out this Halloween. From Star Trek to Little House On the Prairie, many stars made an appearance at Manual.

Manual had such guests as the lead guitarist of Kiss and Jason from Friday the 13th.

Halloween comes once a year, and is filled with pranks, candy, and fun! From trick-or-treating to toilet papering houses, Halloween includes many activities. There are parties to go to, and the best part: Haunted housing.

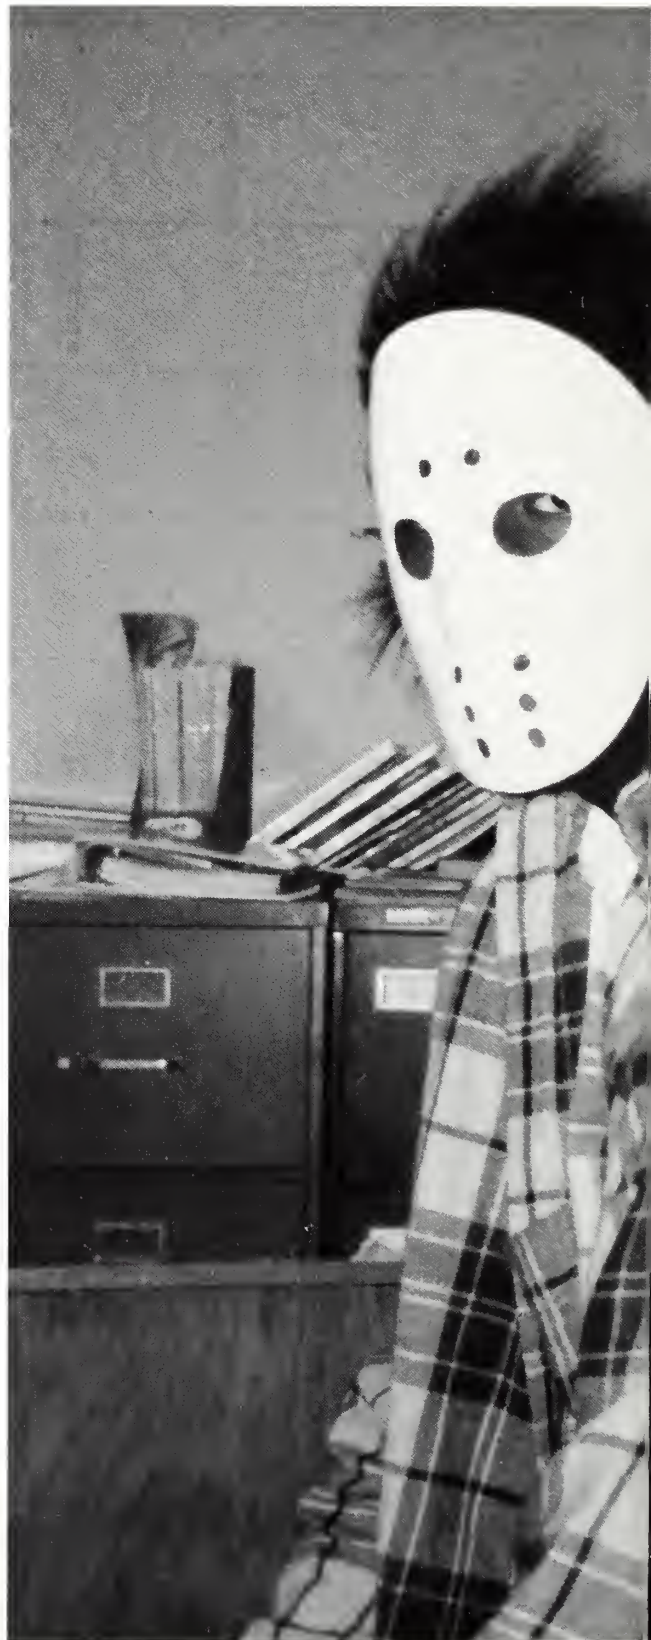

Indy had an array of choices for haunted housing. From the always reliable Hannah house to the fairly new Necropolis everyone had a scare or two.

Necropolis was voted best house, however others don't think so. "I don't think Necropolis was as good as everyone said it would be," commented Andrea Ryan "I thought it was too much to be scared so little."

However, Halloween wasn't a total loss. There was enough candy collected to last a lifetime.

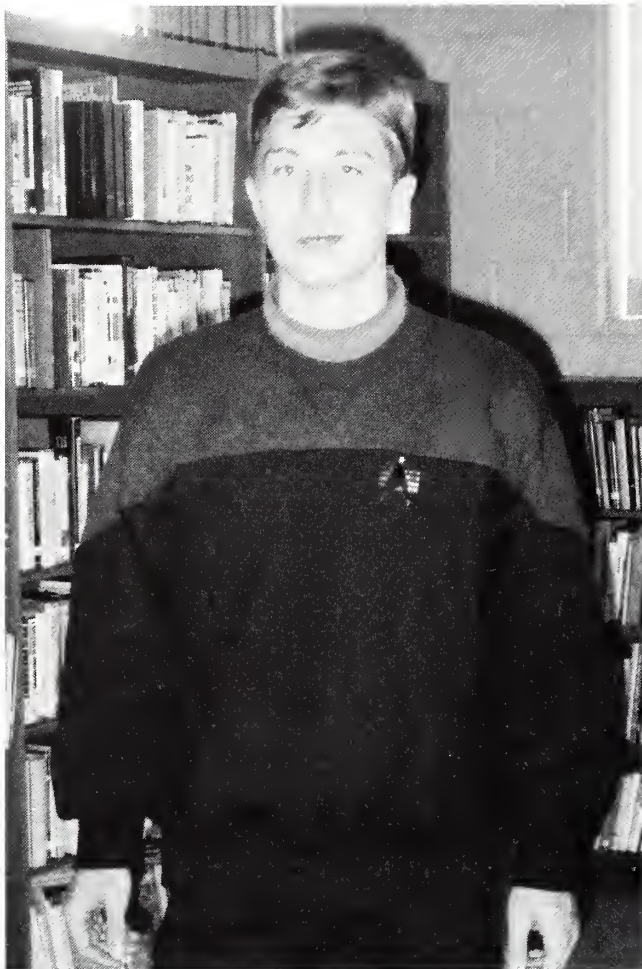

Trying to live his life long dream Josh Smith took on the appearance of Ace Furry!

Now playing, Friday The 13th part 28 with George Jones as the star?! On Halloween, senior, George Jones ran the hallways scaring anyone in his way.

Kent Edwards prepared to beam aboard the Enterprise from Manual's school library. Did he have captain potential, or what?

Everyone knows cheerleaders have spirit, but what about the rest of us?

BY: JOSHUA SULLIVAN

.....

On an average Friday, football and basketball players wear their jerseys. Cheerleaders sported their uniforms. Teachers and administrators show off their matching faculty t-shirts. Why? Because they have spirit, and that's what makes a school strong.

Manual is not any different than any other school in America. We are only as strong as our

"A school is only as strong as its students."

students, and without spirit, those students are very weak.

Pride shouldn't be a problem at Manual. Students have so much to boast to outsiders. We are home to one of the few agriculture magnet programs in the nation. Our drama department, restored by those who love Manual, has been featured in the Indianapolis Star & News several times.

"I came to every football game. I didn't miss a single one," Nicole Ashworth proudly announced. Coming to the games are an important first step, but we can all do more.

"We must have stayed until 7:00 decorating the halls the night before Homecoming," Michelle Gann said.

The bottom line about spirit is that it comes from within, and within the walls of Manual red and white pride overflows. Keeping spirit levels high means always standing behind the Redskins, at pep rallies, in your classroom, even at home.

Band members put on a show at pep rallies and basketball games.

The JROTC routinely presented the nation's flag before sporting events.

Curt Ervin, formerly of Howe HS and currently heading our athletic department, jumped right into Manual Pride by taking extra time to paint the field.

WHO WORK

Students confessed where they spent the day at

Baking up a storm was a constant threat for senior Carol McKinney. The new Wal-Mart Supercenter in Franklin may have been a long drive from home, but there was always that chance to sneak a bite of a sweet pastry roll of some sort.

It won't get you uptown in a flash, and you can find them a lot closer than New York. This Subway has turned determined cheerleader and student Erin Ash into nothing short of a sandwich artist. If you stop by, just make sure to leave a big tip.

The Old Spaghetti Factory is new territory for Chris Sparks. Restaurant service is a great way to gain experience with the public and build confidence, something very valuable to Chris in the ROTC.

There was nothing fishy about this senior's job. Every meal-deal that went out was just a way to pass the time, according to staffers. Cathy Catron raked in the dough at Long John Silvers. Have Senior dues gone up that much?

The man sets his own hours! Ricky Velandingham edited the Booster and worked for Teen Track afterwards.

Manual Labor

Just how much goes into the daily grind?

By: JOSHUA SULLIVAN

You saw them in local restaurants and supermarkets - the working class of Manual High School. Whether it be of necessity or desire, most of our students work in the evening after going to class in the day.

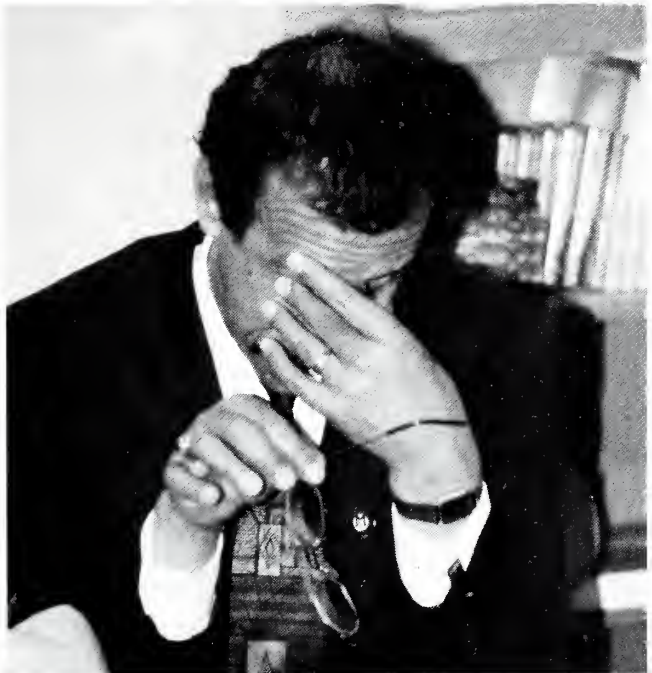

For upperclassmen, working provided money for Prom. Girls started collecting finances early for their dress, while the guys tried to organize funding for flowers, tickets and of course, the famous rented tux.

"Well, this is where they get their paychecks," said one grocery supervisor. The students might have been working hard, but the adults in charge were still cautious of them.

However, they are still needed in many places as clerks and cashiers despite negative opinions, companies were forced to hire them whether they liked it or not.

So what do students spend cash on if they choose not to attend Prom? Well, there is that Spring Break getaway to plan for, and extra loot for cafeteria vending machines was always in demand. Don't forget to hold back a little something each year though, because no one can go without a yearbook.

Burger King or Burger Queen? It didn't ever seem like Rose Bray would sit on the throne at this fast food castle.

Somewhere over the rainbow, work does have its rewards. Just try to imagine what Mr. Simpson was thinking about.

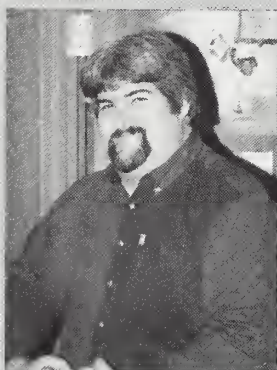

Who was who in CLUB SPONSORS

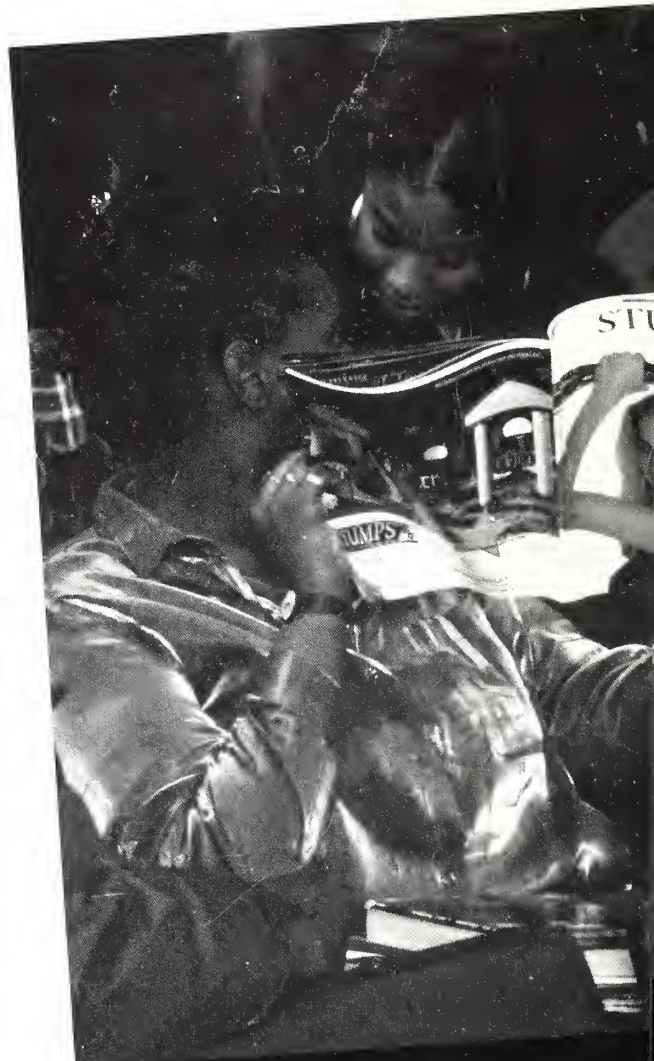

Mrs. Cathy Newman-Smith did many things at Prom meetings, such as demonstrate sample key rings.

Mr. Mike Moore revived the drama program and worked with students interested in performing arts.

Ms. Connie Everline served as one of our senior class sponsors.

Ms. Jill Haughtout sponsored the leadership club. Members of this club toured shadows from Indiana University.

So Many

By: JOSHUA SULLIVAN

"Attention teachers and students, please pardon the interruption. I have just a few announcements this afternoon. At this time we have only one bus change - bus 2106 will be bus 3608. Tonight there will be play practice in the main auditorium from 3:00 until 6:00 and Spanish Club will meet in room 135 from 2:45 until 3:30. Junior and senior class council members should report to the mini-aud at the beginning of homeroom tomorrow for a brief meeting. Again, bus 2106 will be bus 3608."

At approximately 2:25 each afternoon, last minute announcements catored to two distinct groups-one that made tracks out to the parking lot when the last bell rang, and another that will frequented activity busses-both jocks and nerds included.

Some students stayed to use computers, or because they couldn't possibly finish their homework without the help of an experienced tutor. Or maybe they stayed to perfect that no-look pass for the upcoming game. They could be staying for archery, chess, tennis, almost anything. Afterschool activities were as diverse as our population, and students were guranteed to find one they enjoyed!

Clubs, So Little Time!

Dekita Pollard, Danyell Favors, Carletta Lewis, Patrick Garret, & Simona Lewis seemed totally engrossed in magazines when charged with selecting the Prom theme.

Sarah Russel and Amanda Johnston were in a club that always had clubs on hand. They played serious golf downtown and around-town.

Josie DelaFuente reviewed her notes during an ESC meeting. The ESC program gives students hands-on experience of the workplace.

Mount Chipmore towered over students in journalism classes while the IVIAN and BOOSTER staffs tried to raise money through cafeteria concession sales.

Ever wonder what the velocity of your car was barreling down a road at 60 miles per hour? Or, how about the force of impact with another object? If so, get on TRAC.

TRANsportation and Civil engineering. A program launched by the Indiana Department of Transportation (INDOT).

Manual is the only school in IPS that had the TRAC program. The TRAC acronym applied

AUTOGRAPHS

PAC laboratory that is a Transportation Research Activities Center. to the TRAC PAC laboratory that was a Transportation Research Activities Center.

TRAC sent out teams of INDOT engineers into the schools with the 'TRAC PAC,' which consisted of a computer, a set of electronic probes and other lab equipment, and more than two dozen interactive and hands-on activities based on the real-world transportation problems. Students worked in teams as transportation officials and engineers do on a daily basis. This program's purpose was to inflict an interest among students for transportation and civil engineering careers.

"Manual's lead teacher, Mr. Mike Moore, is a fine example of that joint effort. His initial and on going enthusiasm about the TRAC program has resulted in an increased awareness of transportation-related issues. INDOT engineers who deliver the program to the school give students real insight into what it's like to work in transportation, and the students have responded positively," Thomas said.

The actual TRAC PAC setup was a track with magnetic strips going up and down it. The cars had small magnetic pieces under them. As the car went down the track, a motion detector relayed speed, distance, velocity, impact, and the force of the vehicle depending on which condition. It was the how-to engineering and math of transportation involving a real problem-solving activity.

The students took on SIM City. SIM City was a computer program where students had to build, run and maintain a living working city. They had a set budget and a number of possible scenarios that a city could encounter ranging from natural disasters to an economic disruption and downfall.

"SIM builds that social aspect of science as a whole. It relates to the management of society, and it helps to have a better perspective of the economics of a running city," commented Kent Edwards.

So SIMmer down, and get on TRAC with Mr. Moore and his physics class.

Seniors step into the Future!

BY: JENNIFER GREEFF

Seniors finally reached the top. It's been a long four years full of many struggles, changes, and wonderful memories. From tests to homework, we've seen it all. However, reflecting most seniors agreed on one thing: it was worth it.

"I've worked hard the last four years and now that I'm graduating I know it was worth it," said Bobbie Hubble.

The seniors have stepped into many changes. The biggest change of all being the merging of the high schools. Many Washington and Howe students entered Manual not knowing what to expect. "After Washington was closed I thought about quitting, I'm glad I decided to stick with it and graduate," said Nicky Kelso.

Now, we are one class. The Manual class of '97!

The years have created some wonderful memories. There has been laughter and tears, good grades and bad. The memories made will last a lifetime.

Now, as the graduating Class of '97, it's time to look forward to a brighter future. Each decision made from here on will have a huge impact on our future, from what college to attend to what job to choose. All will effect us greatly.

"Graduating with students from three different schools was a change, but I've dealt with it," said Jennifer Cox.

Just like high school had struggles and changes, the future will be filled with many more. The class of '97 has finally reached the top holding the key to unlock the door to any future they may choose.

Chalk it up, but not as a loss. These art students work hard to present something unique.

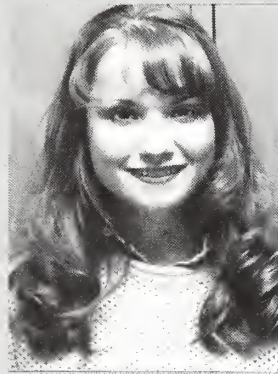

To be or not to be? Corey Parchman has many more skills than just those he showed off on the football field.

Miss Powell and Mr. Craig back in the day, the year was 1978.

Miss Powell and Mr. Craig in 1978 discussed racial tensions within Indianapolis.

Then and now

Things have changed since our parents were in school.

BY: LISA GRUBE AND STEPHANIE WORKMAN

Afros, bleeding shirts, bell-bottoms and wing-tip shoes described the hottest fashions when the '97 graduating class was born.

One dollar could buy enough gas to drive all night. Gas wasn't much good in January of 1978. That is when Indianapolis was in a snow emergency due to a blizzard. Some places had eight feet high snow drifts. Today we thought six inches of snow was bad.

Around 18 years ago no one had heard of cellular phones, compact disc players, automatic voice mail, or the internet. Today, a lot of people couldn't live without it. "Students now get so much more from education due to technology," Ms. Powell said.

In 1978 The Deer Hunter won an Oscar for best movie, Kramer vs. Kramer walked away with the same award in 1979. Miss Mann said, "Hillstreet Blues was a popular show in the late '70's for those that watched television." Welcome Back Kotter was also very popular.

The Bee Gees held the top of the charts in '78 with the song "Night Fever." The Knack held the top with "My Sharona" in '79.

Along with the changes in time there were changes in talk and attitude. The teenagers in 1978-'79 said things like "far-out," "dick" and "groovy" while they carried roach clips. Now we say "what's up," "chillin'" and "groovy" was coming back, but roach clips were few and far between.

Mr. Craig said, "1978 and 1979 were the good ol' days, but I do still appreciate 1996 and 1997."

"Personally, I'm not sure what made me win, but I'm very happy! It could be my personality, 'cause you have to be good looking on the inside before you can look good on the out! But, whatever it was, thanks!" - Danyell Favors

"Honestly, I didn't think I would win Best Looking. It was the last thing I thought I would win, but what I was really trying to win was most likely to rob a parking meter."

"Because I can, and you can't." - George Jones

"I believe that I won this category because other students have seen my effort in keeping good grades throughout high school." - Christina Ingram

"I feel like I won this superlative because I work hard to make good grades, I do whatever I can to get involved with school organizations and activities, and I work hard while training for any sport that I compete in, especially track and field." - Tony Martin

"I have a good personality. I'm a good role model and I have competed in sports all year-round for four years." - Selene Harvey

"I feel I won this award because God blessed me with a lot of athletic ability and he also blessed me with a supporting family, a great coaching staff at Manual High School, and some great team mates." - Corey Parchman

SLIPPING AND SLIDING

SENIORS LEARN TO HAVE FUN OUTSIDE OF SCHOOL!!

BY: CRYSTAL JOHNSON
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

Senior year for most is filled with many memories. Memories consist of the fun activities that range from Bowling to Ice Skating or from the Senior Meetings to the Prom. Every year there is a different and wider variety of activities for Seniors. No matter what the range or variety, there is always an activity for everyone.

For the Senior Class of 1997, their first activity out of the many to come, was to take a relaxing trip to Pan Am Plaza for Ice Skating. It was a fun time for all to have. Although the turnout was not as high as expected, there still was great memories to be made.

"Even without the people I hoped to see, I still had a great time," commented Julie Williamson.

For many it was the very first time they had ever slipped their feet into a pair of ice skates. Brandy Banks said, "Although it was my first time on a pair of blades, it was a fun and new experience I will never forget." Laughs, falls, and first times were experienced, but there is a first time for everything. That night was the first night for the SENIOR LASS OF 1997 to have a blast away from school together. It will always be a great memory for many.

Kristy Olsen, Cathy Catron, Brandy Banks, Crystal Johnson, and Julie Williamson stop on the ice for a group hug.

Kathy Newman-Smith and Antonio Bacon looked more than excited to be on the ice together.

Elizabeth Fox and Chris Gross took a minute to relax before going out on the ice again.

Julie Williamson posed on the ice for the camera.

3 Years Gone

VP Status Comes with a Price

"Here he comes, here come Speed Racer. He's a demon on wheels!"

This jingle from the popular childhood cartoon may all too well describe how fast the years seem to have passed us by.

With the time has come countless memories. Feelings of happiness that will see us through the toughest events yet to come, and sadness and tragedy that will shape us into stronger people were handed out wholesale earlier than most were prepared, or atleast before we expected.

Our complaints have been few, our wants still being tallied up, but now suddenly we have been given a vision of the future, and the fear of exactly how to pass those SAT's and get into a good college has set in.

The junior class has proved themselves to everyone: teachers, coaches, administrators, and even the media, whose scornful reports forced many into a rabid search for scholarship and grant money.

With our age has come wisdom, and spirit matches between the junior and senior classes have truly been a battle at pep rallies. What's important is only a year away, and nothing can stop us now!

Long ago and still together.

Michelle Gann and Mike Scott arrived at Manual as a couple and are an icon of success, teaching us that relationships really do work.

If you love something, set it free. Junior Rakeytra Thomas said good-bye to her senior boyfriend, Andre Jones.

Chrystal Turner and Charles Martin worked together on a project in the Art Department.

It all adds up. Havis Harris worked hard on business skills that will someday make her a valuable employee.

Second Time is a Charm

Sophomores rise to new standards

BY: JOSHUA SULLIVAN

They're proof that a student can survive the torment of freshman year. They don't walk into the wrong classrooms any longer or drop trays in the cafeteria. At long last they can hold their heads up high and proclaim: We are strong! We are proud! We are NOT freshman!

With that declaration, life as a general peon continues.

It's not like they make it to the bus stop on time or follow simple directions, but finally they understand that some rules are beneficial.

Sophomore sports have turned into a true spectacle. Varsity teams start many second year students, and those same kids lead reserve squads to victories everyday.

Advanced classes were filled quickly with sophomores trying to get ahead of the daily grind and prepare for college. Counselors pushed underclassmen to participate in assessment testing as well.

Mentor programs, student government, the STAR Academy; sophomores seem to get involved any way they can. Look out for this group when they graduate, because they'll party like it's 1999.

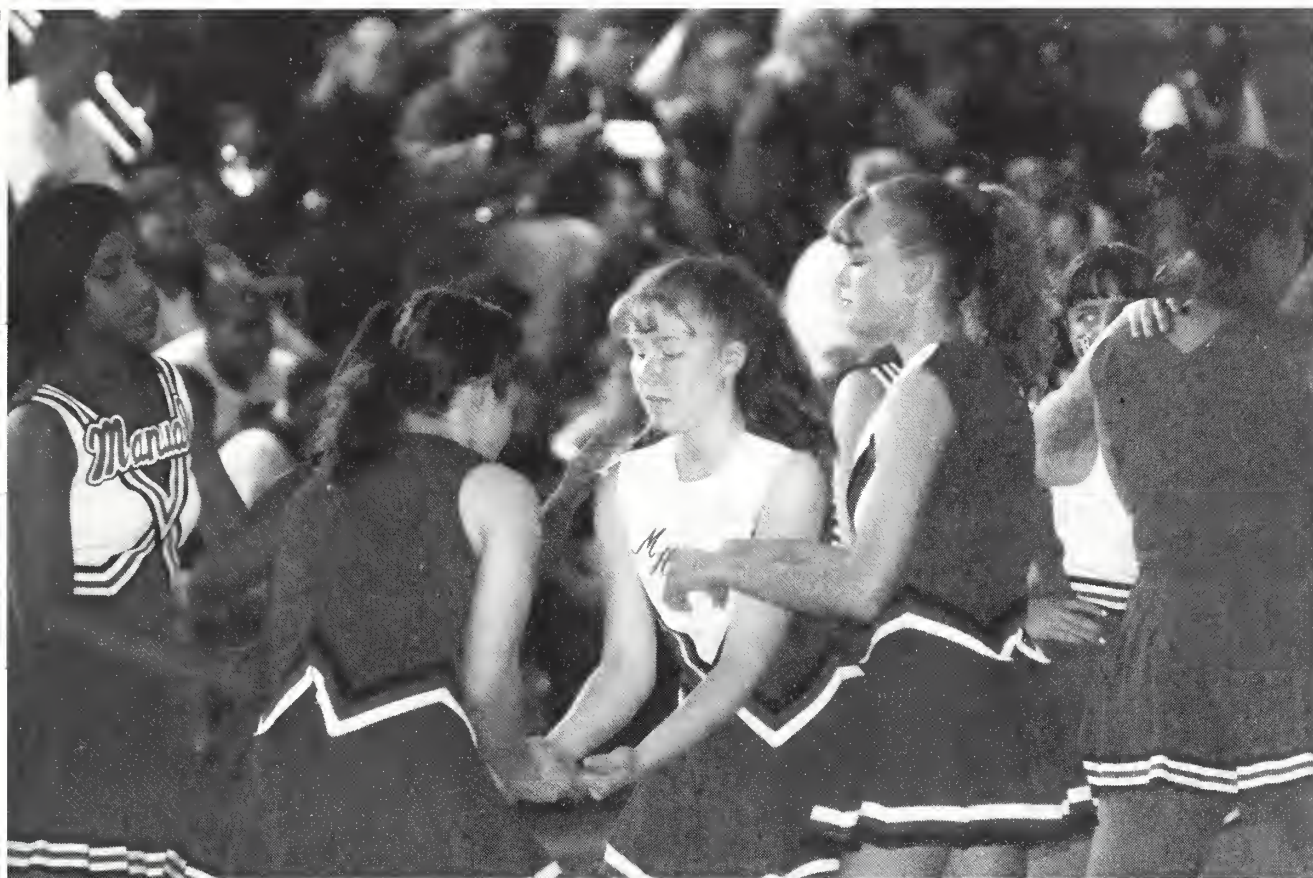

A solid foundation. Mellisa Nicholes and Alicia Baxter set up for a cheerleading stunt.

Technology of the future is working hard for Natasha Caples and Charles Rhodes.

It wasn't a charge! Kevin Nance dodged around opponents into the lane.

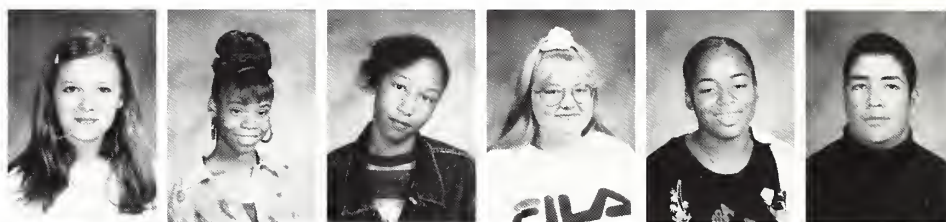

Think Tank? Nicole Davis and Zack Johnson look into the tank below.

Freshmen: Lost and Confused

By: ERICKA RYAN
COPY EDITOR

It was the beginning of a new year, but for most of Manual's population it was the beginning of a new everything.

For most everyone their freshman year is the most difficult and confusing time of their life. There are schedules to memorize, classes to be found, and lockers to unjam. They have a lot to live up to. They are the class of 2000! Unfortunately, that doesn't mean they are going to live up to expectation.

In fact, on the first day of school this year the hallways were crawling with freshmen that were lost and confused. Asking anyone who would listen for directions. Unfortunately, asking for directions automatically signals that they are freshmen, and that's when the teasing starts.

Freshy is a term commonly heard out of the upperclassmen's mouth, but there are more. Freshmen are teased about the pool on the roof, and the dreaded freshman bridge.

Now, everyone has heard the story of freshman bridge. Any freshman caught crossing the bridge without upperclassmen protection will be thrown over. This rumor isn't true, but it does scare quite a few freshmen. Don't worry though. Tormenting freshmen is a right of passage. The class of 2000 will have their chance one day.

Angela Feeley doodles while the teacher explained the day's assignment.

Athletics shows school a good time

TARA AHLBRAND

Many students used sports as a way to exercise and have a good time. It was an extra curricular activity that gave people things to do with their time.

Some people seemed to think that our school spirit regarding sports was not very good. "People need to be more enthusiastic when it comes to sports," said Josie DeLaFuente. "Look at our football team. We broke our 21 game losing streak to Southport. After that, we came back to win our Homecoming for the first time in two years."

In all sports, every team member goes out and gives it the best they have. When you lose a game it makes you wonder how good your best really is. After a while, you get used to not living up to your best. This looks a little better for the football team. It looks as though they're showing us what their best is. Hopefully, it will work the same for the other teams, so they can have a better season.

Boys Golf Team takes 4th in IPSAC: Ladies Still Have Pride

"Despite our record it was a fun and exciting season," said Chris Eastes of the boys team.

This year, John Perkins, Brad Ford, Chris Eastes, Dustin Campbell, and Brian Kriech conspired to create the Men's Golf Team.

Mr. Pack Craig coached the team while teaching P.E. classes at the same time. He led his team to a fourth place win in the sectional and two powerful wins in the regular season. The team also placed fourth in the IPSAC tourney.

Brad Ford was selected as the MVP, while John Perkins earned his standing as the Most Improved Player.

The girls team ended the season without a single win.

Players Manika Moore, Sarah Russel, and Amanda Johnson worked hard with tough competition like Ritter. We did not give up easily. "It was a fun and exciting experience," said Johnson.

Coach McNeil has been the coach for several years and is still having fun. "The main players were very dedicated and improved their game over the season. However, we need more enthusiastic players for next year."

"Due to the lack of players our record suffered, but we will come back with full force next year," McNeil continued.

To be part of next seasons winning team, just let Ms. McNeil know.

INDEX EDITOR

The 1996-97 season for Manuals girl's volleyball team was supposed to be full of winning games and a trip home from the sectional as the new state champions. However, in this case that was not true. The Lady Redskins could only pull off one victory. That victory was over Northwest, with a score of 15-8 and 15-10.

The varsity team players consist of 12 girls, who are: Julie Williamson, Rachel Willis, Kristy Olsen, Lillian Wafford, Erin Ash, Michelle Gann, Tacha Jones, D.J. Johnson, Jerri Groce, Nicole Ashworth, Carol McKinney, and Salene

Harvey. Coaches are Ms. Hall and Mr. Bryant.

"Ms. Hall showed us skills and Mr. Bryant was there when we needed him," said captain Julie Williamson.

The Lady Redskins had a lot of tough competition this year. The team put forth a tremendous amount of effort in hopes of a successful season.

"Park Tudor, Roncalli, Perry Meridian, and Luthern were our hardest opponents," stated Williamson. Erin Ash was named "Most Improved Player" by coach Hall. Hopefully, Manual's volleyball team will go to the sectionals next year and bring home a victory. But for now, Good Luck Next Year!

Tina Mathis is in a perfect stance for fighting the opponents.

Swinging with motivation

Tennis team showed strength on court

BY ROSE BRAY

Kathy Newman-Smith and the girl's tennis team were not all that lucky on the court this season. However, they hung in there and gave it their best. Even with only one win this season against Tech, the girls continued to give it their all.

"Most of the players were new this year but they all still did a good job," said Michelle Gann.

The team players were Tara Sullivan, Ellen Winkler, Brandy Smith, Angie Rodriguez, Michelle Gann, Nicole Ashworth, Phung Tran, Samantha Todd, Valerie Planalp, Marlanea Matthews, and Gabrielle Hollis.

One good thing that happened this season for coach Smith was when her number one doubles Nicole Ashworth and Gann won second place in IPSAC.

"It was a lot of hard work and a lot of practicing," Ashworth said. Coach Smith looks for, someone who just likes being there.

For coach Smith this was a rebuilding season and next year will be a brand new season with a brand new start.

Nicole Ashworth prepared to slam the ball in the competition's face.

Seniors go for the gold!

BY KRISTY OLSEN

The men's cross country team, despite having an incomplete season, showed great promise. This year's team consisted of Kent Edwards, Tony Martin, Terry Akers, Charles Gibson, Brian Kriech, and most valuable runner D.J. Brink. "D.J. Brink is outrunning most other runners," said Coach Mike Swinford.

Brink felt that he has done well this season. Not only has he received his best times this season, but he is also team captain. His most memorable moments were placing high in the invitationals in which he has competed. "This year has been great for me," said Brink.

Another valuable runner has been senior Tony Martin. He believed the team would do well this season. "Even though we got off to a shaky start with just three runners," said Martin, "we are going to have a strong team with our new arrivals." Martin wants to wish next year's team good luck.

When asked about his predictions for next season, Coach Swinford said he's not sure how well the team will do. He also said it could be cut out to save money. However, he was pleased with the performance of the team.

Tony Martin lead the way to another Redskin victory.

D.J. Brink raced to beat his competition.

Sophomore Jennifer Sparks ran against the wind to the finish line.

CC places second

BY KRISTY OLSEN

The women's cross country team proved to be competitive this season. The team consisted of sophomore Jennifer Sparks and freshmen Danielle Marshall.

The record was two wins and seven losses. They fought hard in every meet and refused to give up. This was proven when the ladies finished second in the Indianapolis Public Schools Athletic Conference, or IPSAC.

Jennifer Sparks finished 10th place out of 23 runners total in individual competition in the IPSAC tournament. She feels the team did better this season than it had in the past. "Hopefully the team will try harder next year and do better," said Sparks.

Colonel Riley feels the team did well this season. "Cross country requires a lot of self-motivation," said Riley. The girls have obviously proven that point. Congratulations to a good season.

Senior leadership brought football program up to speed

BY: JOSHUA SULLIVAN

Performing the Macarena to the student body at our annual homecoming pep rally was just one example of the unity and tremendous spirit of the 1996 Varsity Team. Led by Corey Parchman, the team proved too potent even for many fans. Opposition only promoted a three game mid-season winning streak for the Red and White.

"Corey plays great out of the pocket," remarked biology teacher

Mike Swinford a week before the Skins turned

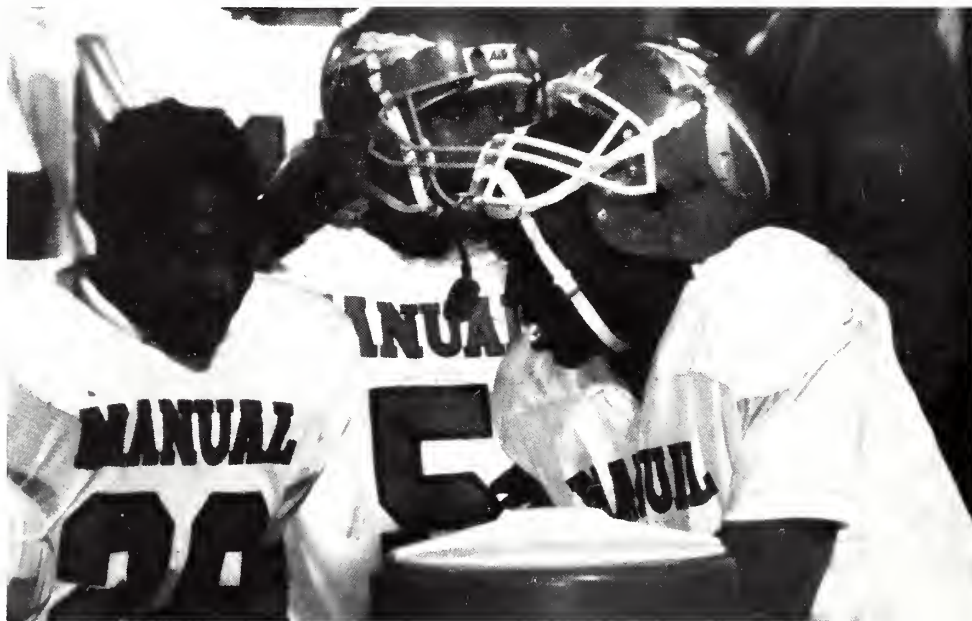

Broad Ripple's athletic field into nothing less than a slaughter house. And he was right, but not just about Parchman (who was also the recipient of the MVP award). The entire team pulled together as an invincible force, taking scalps at games against Northwest and Southport, a long time Manual rival.

Special awards were presented to Mike Eland, Scout Player of the Year; Richard Kent for most improved; and Shawn Taylor for Excellent Mental Attitude.

Coach Bruce Shadiow and Senior Quarterback Corey Parchman stood between other Redskins at the sectional game at Ben Davis. "My senior year," Parchman reminisced. "All the games were great."

Water boys? These Skins were swapping stories around the cooler while the defense took control on the field.

Don't ever let them pull you down. A fierce Redskin looked ready to drag this Rocket all the way down the field if need be.

The spirit of MHS definitely showed in its alumni. Former student and football player, Bill Price assisted the freshman coaching staff.

A close call was always in our favor as long as senior Darrell Brown had the ball.

Manual Wrestling

A Winning Tradition

By: Brandy Banks

Over the past seven seasons Coach Jim Phillips has led a winning wrestling team. His teams have the incredible record of 100 wins, five losses, and one tie as of January of 1997. As in the past this seasons team had the winning spirit as well.

The team won

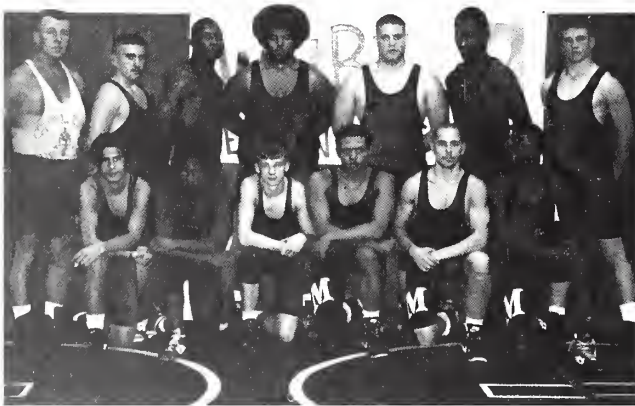

IPSAC for the seventh time this season. One of the players commented that they proved last year wasn't a "fluke". They worked hard this season and deserve all the glory they received. However, there are some who worked better than others.

This seasons top players may include Hannibal Harris, Mike

Gary, and Lewis Warren. All three of these players and Milen Glenn and Wesley Barber won the weight division in this seasons IPSAC tourney. Also, Hannibal Harris and Mike Gary reached high points when Hannibal pinned Cathedrals 130 pounder Connor in 106 seconds, and when Mike and Hannibal won city championship titles, but they weren't alone that day the team as whole received third place at the city championships. that was better than last years place. They are on the winning road of improvement! Way to go team, WHBL!

Jeffrey Rodriguez turned things around for Manual, to try for a win.

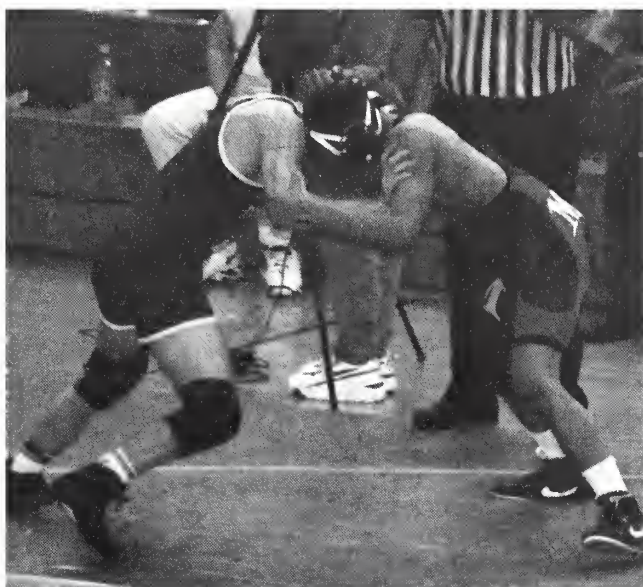

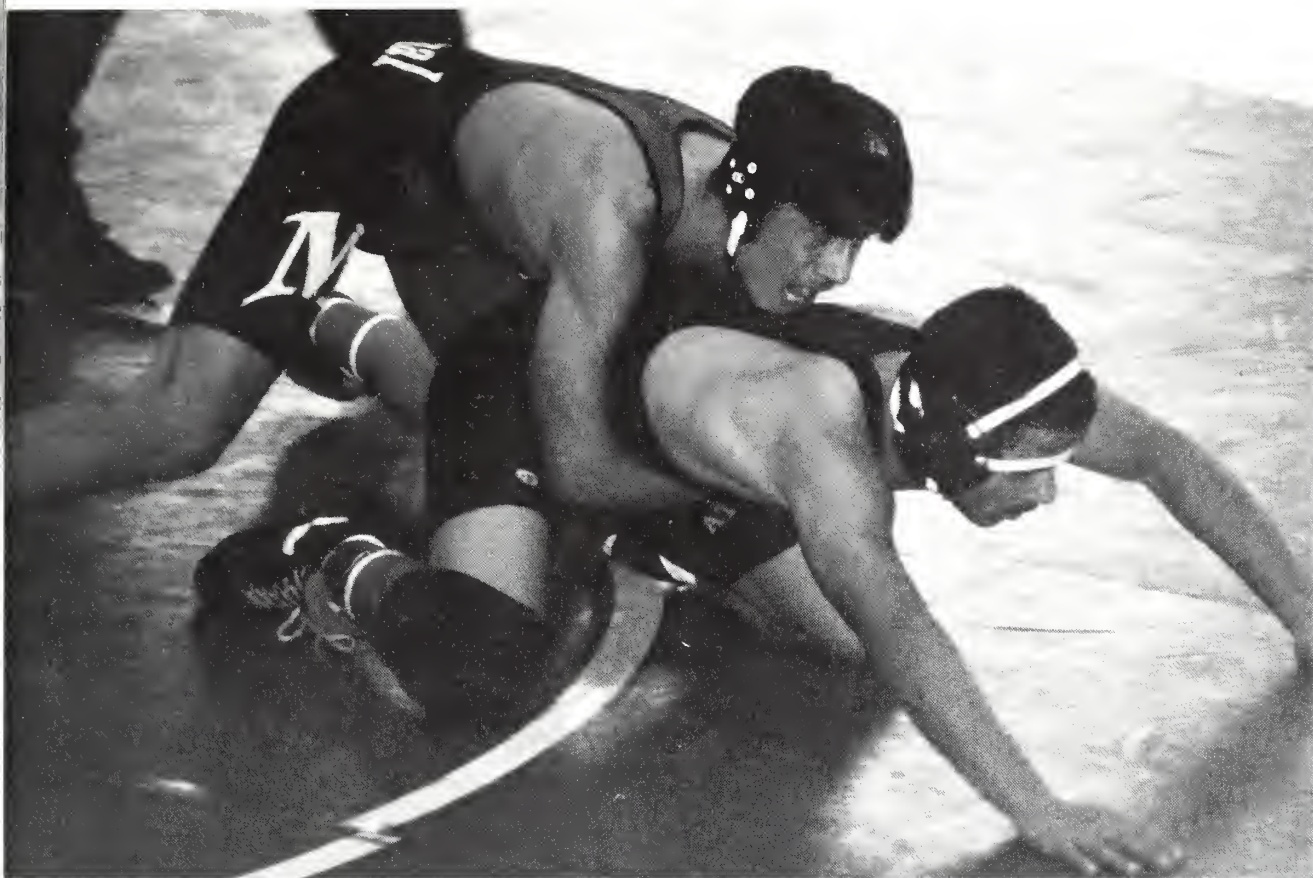

Coach Jim Phillips, Benjamin Shelley, Ricky Belt, Solomon Knight, David Wyatt, Michael Gary, Lewis Warren.

Jeffrey Rodriguez, Hannibal Harris, Orville Smith, Wesley Barber, Tommy Humphries, Martin Porter.

Going head to head was a common sight at matches. These two looked ready to get into the action.

Lady's Night Out

Women's Basketball a Great Success

BY: JOSHUA SULLIVAN

While a group of visiting spectators believed our varsity forwards should have been playing short stop on a baseball diamond somewhere, the girls thought the season was about taking it to the max on the hardwood, and that's exactly what they did.

Coaches Newman-

Smith and Hasdedt threw a curve ball by posting freshman Chanta Brown on the varsity roster, while seniors Christie Johnson, Alisha Hummel, and Sandra Harvey were charged with leading the team to victory.

"I think JV did a lot better because we saw how hard varsity was pushing themselves," commented Rose Bray after Manual's grand slam at Indianapolis Baptist.

The team observed "pitching a tent in the lane" were a far cry from the all stars who hammered Roncalli, a game that set a standard for years to come.

Taking 'em all the way to the hole was no stranger for a JV squad seeking to follow in the footsteps of Redskin All Stars.

Varsity: Genola Allen, Mishanda Boyd, Chanta Brown, Latoria Carter, Nicole Gill, Salene Harvey, Curtrina Holloway, Alisha Hummel, Christie Johnson, Randi Johnson, Tiffany White. JV: Melisha Armour, Rose Bray, Archesha Copeland, Farreh Durham, Cortessa Gaddis, Latoyna Gibson, Amanda Gimlich, Gabriella Hollis, Marlanea Mathews, Tonisha Pinner, Cassandra Radford, Jennifer Sparks, Lillian Wafford, Daveeta Wilson.

A helping hand wasn't always what it is cracked up to be. Senior Alisha Hummel took a hard shove to get some help from the opposition at the game against Roncalli.

Tip this! Randi Johnson faced off at the beginning of many Redskin contests.

Everybody jump! Joe Teague takes the sweet shot to build the lead.

Up and away. Jarron Coleman catches some air time with this lay-up.

A Walk in the Park

Basketball team takes it one game at a time

By: JOSHUA SULLIVAN

Expectations for the team were high, having been set up for a spectacular season by the unbelievable success of the Manual football program.

The tough competition that came in from Bloomington North and Richmond couldn't knock the Skins down, and the long road trip to Lebanon sent confidence levels through the sky.

Local contest were dominated by red and white: point by point they carried themselves into the next game.

The tremendous loss of Coach Ed Leavell made room for Dean Bryant to step into the ball picture, proving that he could teach guys to slam dunk just as well as he showed the Lady Skins how to master volleyball. Bryant's on-court energy made the transition for JV surprisingly smooth.

Head Varsity

Coach Pack Craig seemed more at home down by the hardwood than ever before. Craig was recognized by students not only as a P.E. instructor, but also as a spirited leader and respect mentor for all.

Seniors Darrell Brown, Eric Butler, George Jones, and Dmaon Thomkins presented themselves as Manual's own Final Four, knowing it was their last year to play under the lights of the Redskin Gym.

Double trouble. George Jones maneuvers around two of Heritage Christian's finest.

THEY TOOK SOME HEAT, BUT STILL SUCCEEDED

BY: ERICKA RYAN

Baseball had a tough season. With only one senior they had an underclassmen team. By the end of the season they had a record of 3 and 20, but it wasn't a total loss.

Senior, Jason Ragland ended his career by breaking two pitching records. He now has the record for most strikeouts in a season, and most strikeouts in a career. Also, he was selected to be on the all city second team, as the pitcher, as well as the all

IPSAC team. He wasn't alone however. Catcher Todd Ballard and center fielder Steve Zimmerman were also selected to play on the All IPSAC team. Todd is also a member of the 300 pound club

Some other awards given were the season MVP award to Todd Ballard, and the pitching went to junior Thomas Lawson.

Among the players returning are team captains Todd Ballard, and Steve Zimmerman, seniors Jeremy Parsley, Damon Ward, and Bill

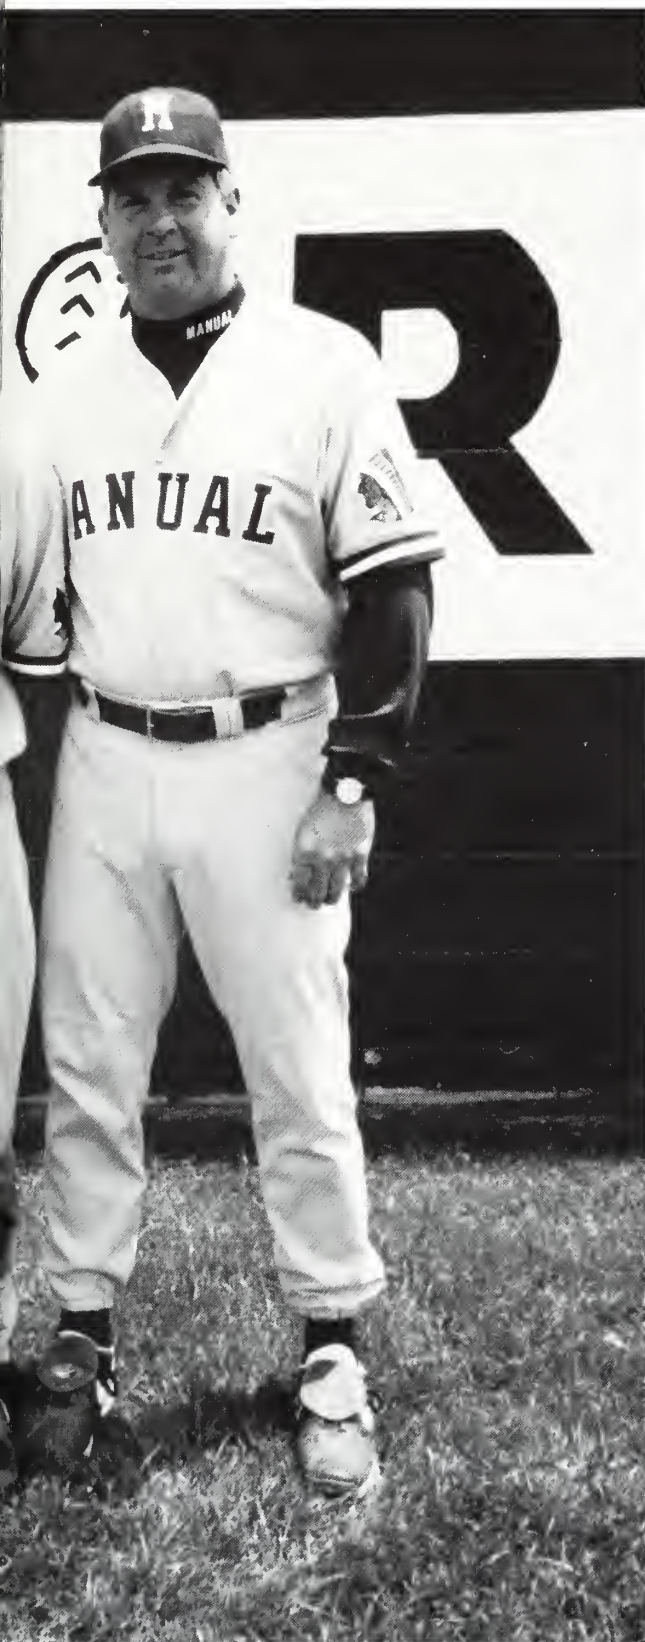

Cox.

The season was a tough one, but next year will be much better. "Our 1995-96 baseball season was one in which our players learned many things..." commented Coach Alter, "...We took our lumps and will hopefully benefit from our experiences in the next few seasons. We have many good players who went through some adverse situations, and will return in 1996-97 season with added skills and confidence about their capabilities."

LADY REDSKINS MAKE THE MOST OF SPRING SHOWERS

By: JOSHUA SULLIVAN

SLAM!!! was a sound frequently heard by opponents of the Manual Softball Team. The Lady Redskins brought home victories from some difficult games. "I thought that we played very well," said one of our softball veterans, Erin Ash. "We had good defense and that will strengthen our offense." A better offense will be an asset in the playoffs.

The players on this years team were seniors Jamie Beavers, Serene Coons and Brandi Bowers. Rachael Campbell, Paula Cole, Kim Hagen, Alisha Hummel, Christina Ingram, Latissa Ivy, Carol McKinney, Kristy Olsen, Erin Ash, LaTasha Caplier, Amy Crowe, Nichole Davis, Niki Johnson, Nichole Johnston, Eoyn Kivett, Linda Moore, Gladys Phillips, Jennifer Pitts, Tiffany White, and Julie Williamson also were on the team.

Each year the Redskin team hopes to make it to sectionals, and to win the local IPSAC championship. This season's rival, the Broad Ripple Rockets, stood in the way of their goal. "Playing has its joys, but it also has some sacrifices and its ups and downs," reported Coach Swinford. Spectators saw more ups than anything else.

A rainy day couldn't stop Alisha Hummel, who hammered players trying to score against the home team. Alisha was a major factor in our tremendous wins with Park Tudor and Lutheran. Both her coaches and teammates are excited to work with her again.

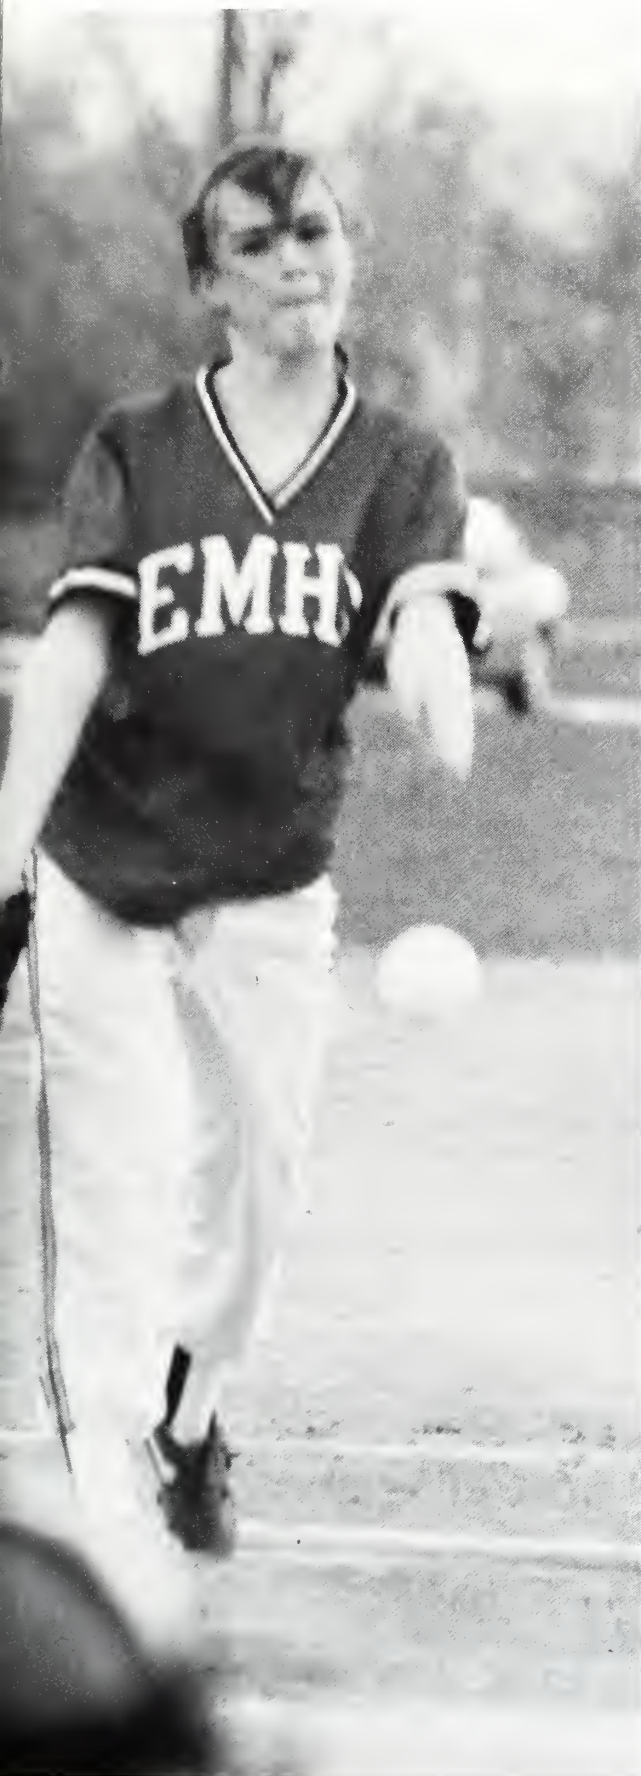

The Lady Redskins showed Manual Pride through both the bad and the good times. They are certainly models for everyone.

A strong Redskin Team regroup between innings.

Chasing Victories

MVP awarded to multi-sport athlete; new event added

A team that took second at IPSAC and placed in the top 10 at City, Redskin track members were feared at meets no matter how far they travelled.

The Southport Relays were also a great success, with the team returning home with a third place score. The Skins finished fourth in Sectional IHSAA action, finishing a fantastic season.

Broad Ripple had no better a time on the track than they did on the football field, forfeiting their meet with Manual, setting senior Corey Parchman up for two wins against the Rockets in a single year. Not only was Parchman selected MVP on the track team, but he also led our football team as an unstoppable QB along with Darrell Brown (who also played football), recipient of this year's Mental Attitude Award for track and field events.

A new event added was the 4x80 relay. The combined efforts of D.J. Brink, Johnnie Ray, Chris Fowler, and Charles Gibson improved times steadily to 8:37.4. Raymond Mays was recognized as Most Improved.

BY: JOSHUA SULLIVAN

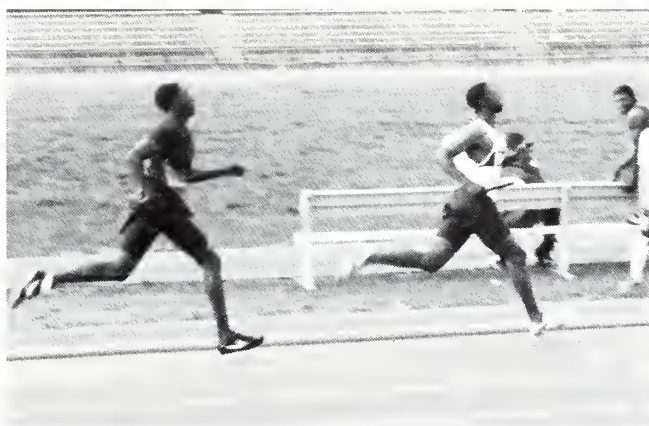

Redskin track members get together in their red and white before the competition started at IUPUI.

Mr. Rymers gave a last minute pep talk. These Skins were ready to meet the challenge!

Desmond South showed off his hurdles during a warm-up period. Is this hurdle-master trying to scare off opponents before the meet begins?

This relay's victory was locked up, but was there really any question of who would take home the win?

Stretchin' out before a tough run wasn't an option, and these two pleaded no contest.

Cheer the Redskins!

Football Team shares pride with Lady Skins

Just because they have Redskin Pride doesn't mean that they have an easy job, but with the help of an enthusiastic new coach, our cheerleaders have mirrored the excitement of the Football Team's winning season. Diane Cesarski led an unstoppable cheersquad at pep rallies, using trendy ideas to bring out the best in students.

Football players worked with the cheerleaders in events reminiscent of Manual's old Powderpuff days. In our first pep rally, members of the football team dressed as cheerleaders and performed the Macarena to a wild crowd. At the next rally, our girls took possession of the pigskin, moving the football gracefully during a casual scrimmage on the hard wood of Manual's gym floor.

On the field and beside the B-ball court, the cheerleaders fired up the fans with better builds, awesome stunts, and spirited floor cheers.

The girls have truly lived up to their names leading the cheers and our teams on to a victory.

Senior Carol McKinney is annoyed by senior D.J. Brink's amusing and humorous behavior.

Mavis Gilbert, Renae Crabtree, Charmagne Booker, Love Jones, and Simona Lewis looked nice awaiting final results of the Homecoming Queen.

Mrs. Susan Valentine was in the middle of a hard day's work teaching her sophomore English class.

Loungin'. Rather than showing off the spirit of MHS, Mr. Belser, Mr. Jackson, and Mr. Fuqua exhibited the stress of MHS during a not-so-quick pit stop in the upstairs faculty lounge.

As the 1997 IVIAN comes to a close, I would like to acknowledge the great IVIAN staff that stuck together through thick and thin. We had numerous obstacles that jumped in our pathway, but we knocked them down by being strong and learning to overcome. Even though a lot of people were new to our staff, we all gave a lot of time, effort, and dedication to get to our finished product.

To all of the Manual student body and faculty, in the near future Manual will get the credit that it deserves for all of its achievements. Good luck on the roads that your lives travel and make the most of your time here at Manual.

I will leave a bit of advice to all underclassmen. No matter how much you think school is a drag and that there are a million other things you could be out in the world doing, don't ever take your high school years for granted. All though you might not be able to see it now, they are the best time of your life. Never lose sight of that. You can go far in life if you really want to.

Being the yearbook editor has given me many great memories to take with me as I leave Manual to start a new phase in my life. Nevertheless, it has also left me with the many times that I wished I could pull my hair out, but all in all I would not have changed a thing. It has made me understand how many different people with many different opinions can learn to put their differences aside in order to get along and become friends. I wish all of my yearbook buddies the best in everything you do.

Sincerely, Crystal Johnson
